HAVEN – PROTECT THE VIP(ER)

Hey y'all.

This comp was popularized by The Guard (now G2) and is likely to become a massive part of the 2024 meta (oh wait, Haven is going???).

On attack, and as the title suggests, it's "Protect The Viper" - as long as Viper is alive in Postplants we are likely to win a lot of rounds.

We have included a Defence gameplan on Page 5, the general intention will be to flood across the map using our Viper's delay.

See you on the server :)

DEFENCE PLAYBOOK

DEFENCE GAMEPLAN

FLOOD FLOOD FLOOD!

DEFINITIONS

FLOOD -> To rotate into sites as quickly as possible, usually supporting existing anchors on the sites i.e. the spike hasn't been planted. As opposed to set-retakes (below).

SET-RETAKES -> Waiting for everyone to be in position off-site and using set utility to clear out the site together, usually when the spike has been planted

FLOOD GAMEPLAN

Our priority sites to hold will be $A > C > B$

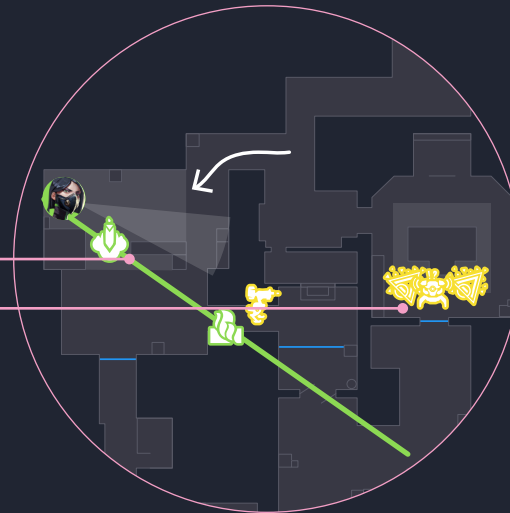

Meaning we want to hold A as much as possible and playing to retake C or B is fine; albeit we would prefer to flood C if possible.

Overall this means we will mostly be playing some form of 2-0-3 type default; a preference to be strong on the A side of the map.

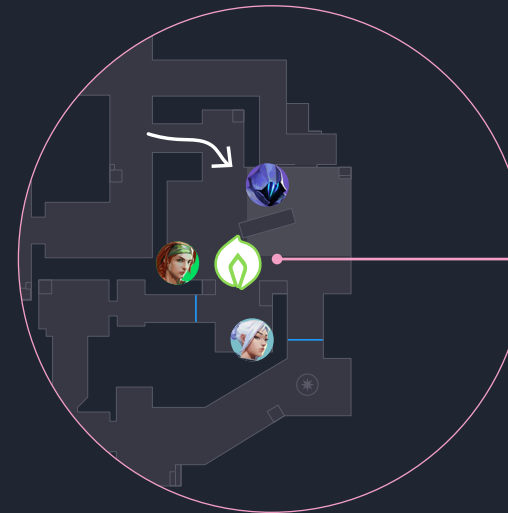

The reasons for this is that retaking A is really difficult but C is good for both retakes+floods (particularly with our Viper wall). B in general is easy to retake in whatever fashion is appropriate.

VIPER WALL DELAYS FOR FLOOD (CAN ALSO BE USED TO ISOLATE BACKSITE ON RETAKE)

KJ SETUP B ALLOWS FOR FLOOD OR BUYS TIME FOR ROTATION FOR SET-RETAKE

TYPICAL C + B UTILITY + POSITION

TYPICAL A UTILITY + POSITION

VIPER ORB CREATES STALL TO THE ATTACKERS. THEY MUST EITHER WAIT FOR THE ORB OR TRY TO FIGHT THROUGH IT.
BOTH GIVE US OPPORTUNITY TO FLOOD.

- Pistol
- Can be done on gunround if we REALLY want to shut-down A Main

On C we are using our Killjoy + Viper utility to delay/deny for our rotators. If Attack is execing we want to hold the back of the site using the Viper wall.

WHEN TO CALL THIS STRAT:

- Attacker's are defaulting towards A
- We aren't sure where Jett can get a free pick

OPTIONAL VIPER UTILITY VARIATION

DEFAULT (2/2)

KILLJOY SETUP VARIATIONS

8

Haven Defence with Viper is fairly static inherently so variations in setups can come from Killjoys placement of utility.

Here are some suggested variations, feel free to make adjustments or make your own!

DRX GARAGE

CALL THIS WHEN:

- Attack isn't going B often and Killjoy feels comfortable playing a more aggressive hold

LINK TO KILLJOY POV

PASSIVE TURRET

CALL THIS WHEN:

- They keep breaking the turret in garage (and we don't want to play a garage setup)

LINK TO KILLJOY POV

B TURRET

CALL THIS WHEN:

- Attacker's are killing our B alarmbot early into rounds e.g. with shock darts.

This makes our molly in garage less valuable as we cannot molly off turret timing (but still possible).

JETT OP SETUPS

OVERVIEW

The Jett OP is a crucial tool to try to secure rounds on Defence Haven. Calling for potential picks for the Jett is key (knowing when Jett should play A/B/C); this will be partly Jett's feeling.

Here are some suggested setups around the main OP lines, feel free to make adjustments!

DEFAULT (w/ OP)

CALL THIS WHEN:

- We feel Attack can be picked on A or we can lock A with an OP and over-rotate away.

If Jett gets pushed off, use Skye dog to reclear/repush angles.

LINK TO SKYE POV

LINK TO OMEN POV

JETT OP B

CALL THIS WHEN:

- Attack is Defaulting around middle / they aren't giving us picks on A

LINK TO JETT POV

JETT OP C

CALL THIS WHEN:

- Attack is Defaulting towards C/Garage / they aren't giving us picks on A.

Viper plays the rotator towards A here.

LINK TO JETT POV

LINK TO VIPER POV

LINK TO KILLJOY POV

Killjoy switching to A has become a more popular development in the meta. Part of it is to shut-down heavy A long execs we see, in particular with the Viper comps.

This should be a surprise setup that we shouldn't have to rely on too much (KJ covering C/Garage/B with info utility is too strong).

WHEN TO CALL THIS STRAT:

- Our A holds are struggling and want to play a hard-site hold as a last-ditch effort
- Some teams play this so the Killjoy can solo A but this feels sub-optimal (source: trust me)

JETT C VARIATION

KILLJOY ULT SETUP

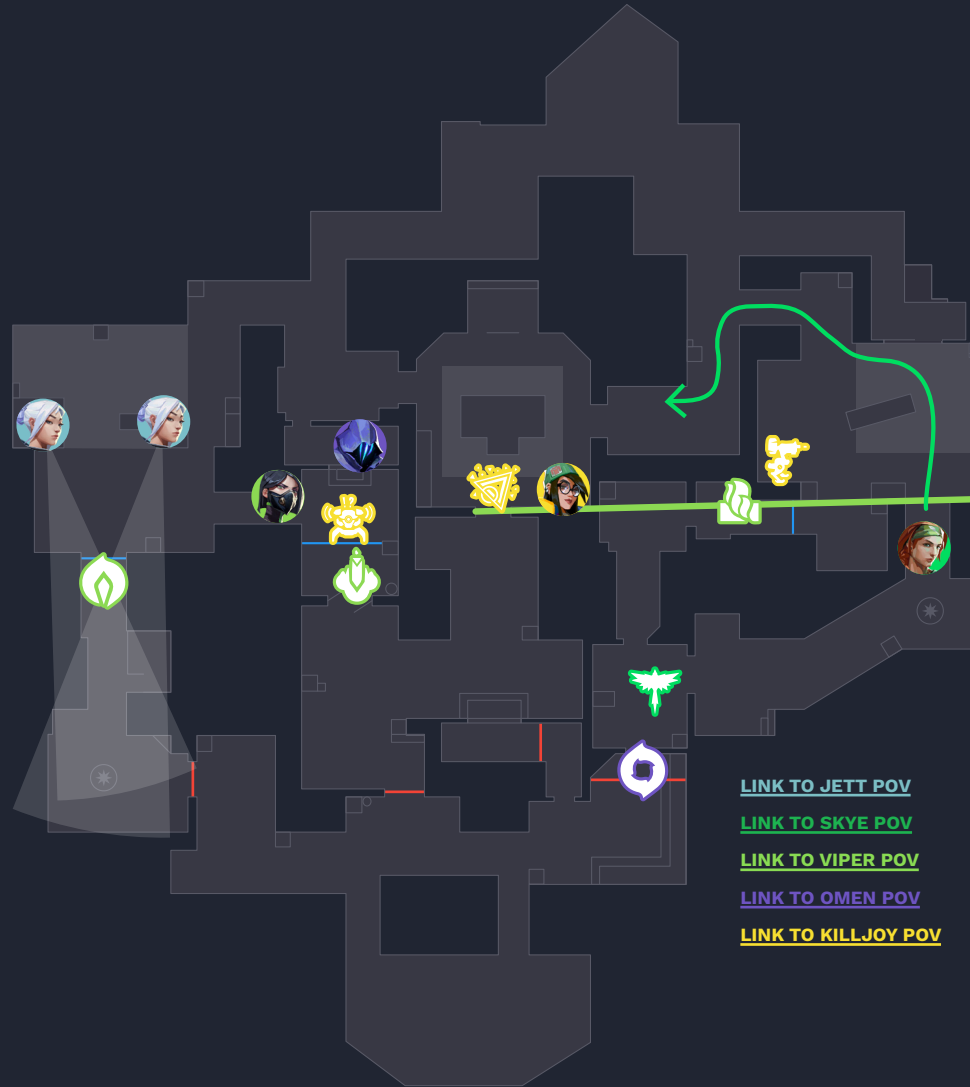

OVERVIEW

With Killjoy Ult we can play for a Retake A setup, we do not do this anywhere else in the playbook so may be a surprise for the Attack.

Note: You can use the normal Viper wall/orb variation if you feel this gives away a read, but this wall is better for Retaking A.

WHEN TO CALL THIS STRAT:

- We have Killjoy Ult (and they don't have Sova ult)

RETAKE A ULT
(NOTE: AGAINST BREACH/RAZE/SOVA YOU MAY NEED TO PLACE AWAY FROM WALL)

VIPER ULT SETUP

OVERVIEW

Our Viper Ult Setup makes C site extremely difficult for the Attack, using the ult in combination with a one-way.

Our recommendation is to play a heavy A sided idea off this, but you are free to play more standard towards A if you would like to!

WHEN TO CALL THIS STRAT:

- We have Viper Ult

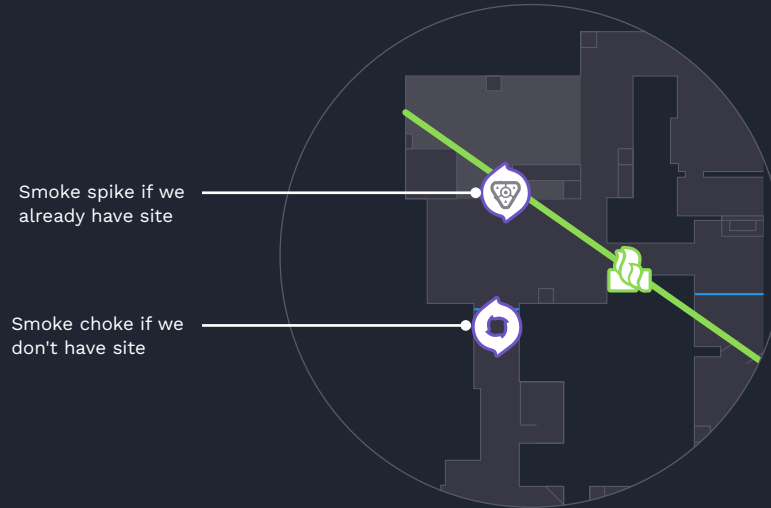

RETAKES

13

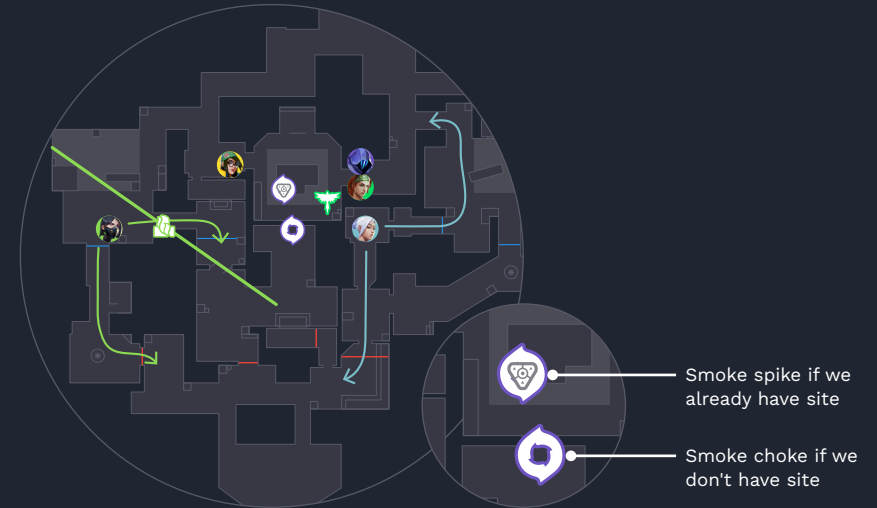

We have indicated some protocols for retakes on B and also an indication about C but as our gameplan will be to flood, especially on A, we didn't include a Retake A.

ATTACK PLAYBOOK

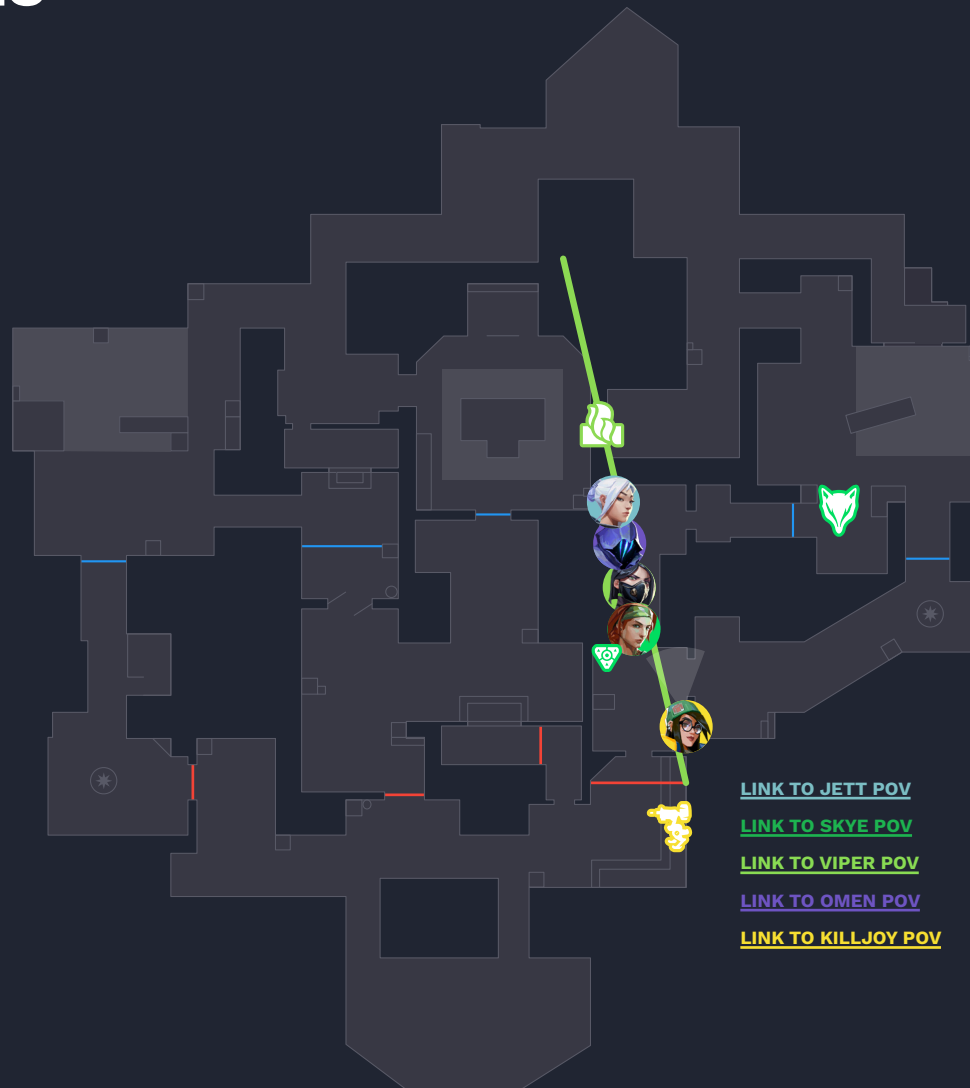

PISTOL: SEWERS EXEC

OVERVIEW

Our Pistol strat is designed partly to show how powerful the Viper Wall we use in this Playbook is, with a surprising heavy sewers exec.

WHEN TO CALL THIS STRAT:

- Pistol
- Low buy rounds

POSTPLANT

DEFAULT A (1/2)

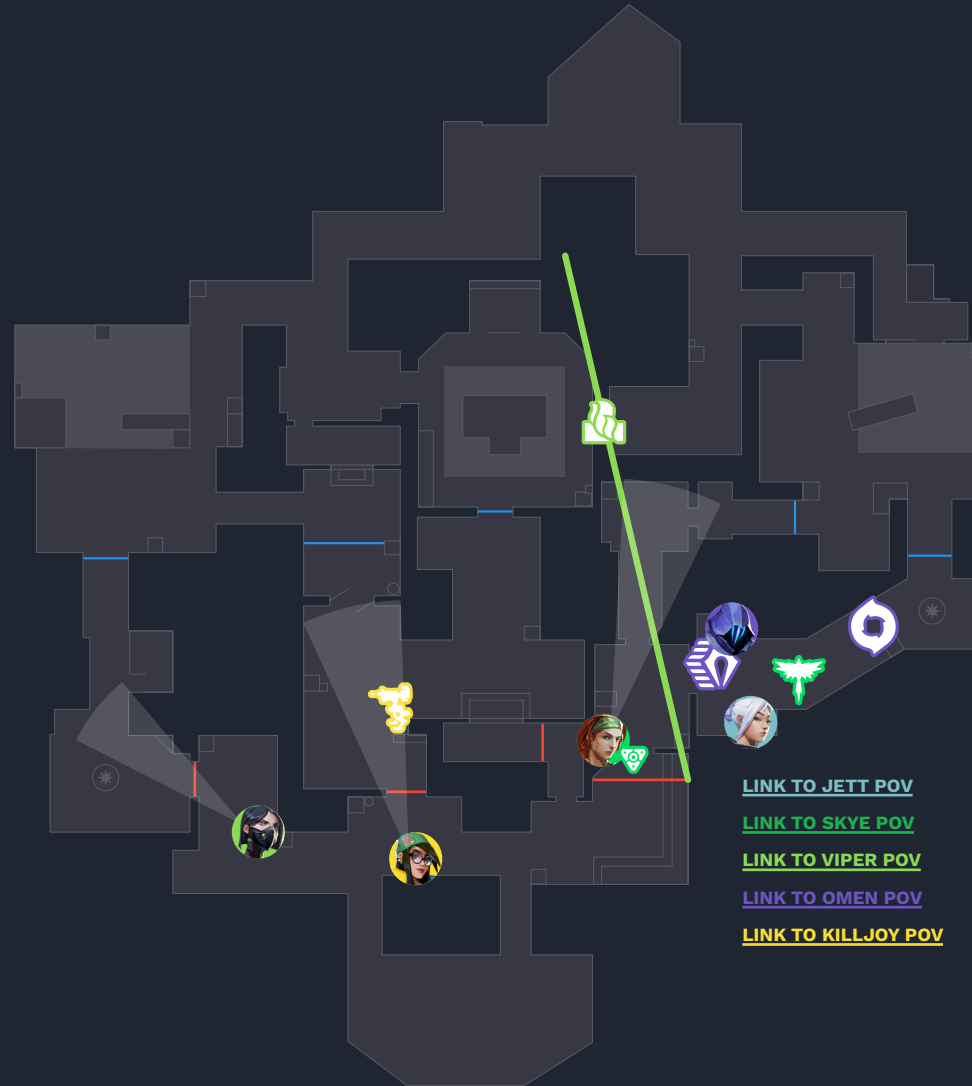

DEFAULT

Our Default A is designed to take space around A and to then make decisions afterwards. The decisions can be seen on the next page.

Killjoy is our lurker in this Default (but can join the pack). Viper needs to join the pack to stay safe and survive for postplant.

WHEN TO CALL THIS STRAT:

- This is a well-balanced, sound round that can be called in most situations
- Defence are contesting A and leaving one player

DEFAULT A (2/2)

EXECS / RECLEAR

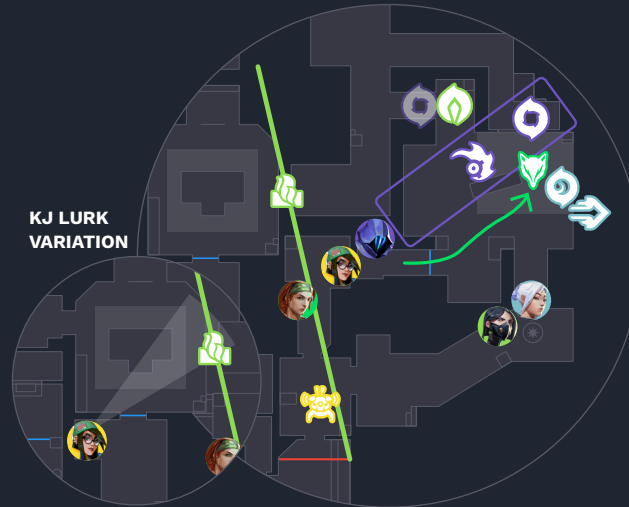

17

The biggest decision to make once we have controlled Long A / Sewers is whether we can directly exec A.

To summarize the protocols:

- if A is weak, exec A
- if A is REALLY strong, go C
- if we are unsure, reclear garage
- then make a decision

INTO A EXEC

CALL THIS WHEN:

- We feel Defence is weak on A
(ideally only 2 Defenders, execing into 3 is still winnable though if time is low)

LINK TO SKYE POV

LINK TO VIPER POV

INTO RECLEAR GARAGE

CALL THIS WHEN:

- We have inserted Omen A and are unsure if Defence is weak or strong on A

LINK TO SKYE POV

LINK TO OMEN POV

LINK TO KILLJOY POV

CANCEL INTO C SPLIT

CALL THIS WHEN:

- Defence is stacked or rotating to A too fast
(3 players or more +/- Jett OP)

LINK TO SKYE POV

LINK TO VIPER POV

LINK TO OMEN POV

LINK TO KILLJOY POV

DEFAULT GARAGE (1/2)

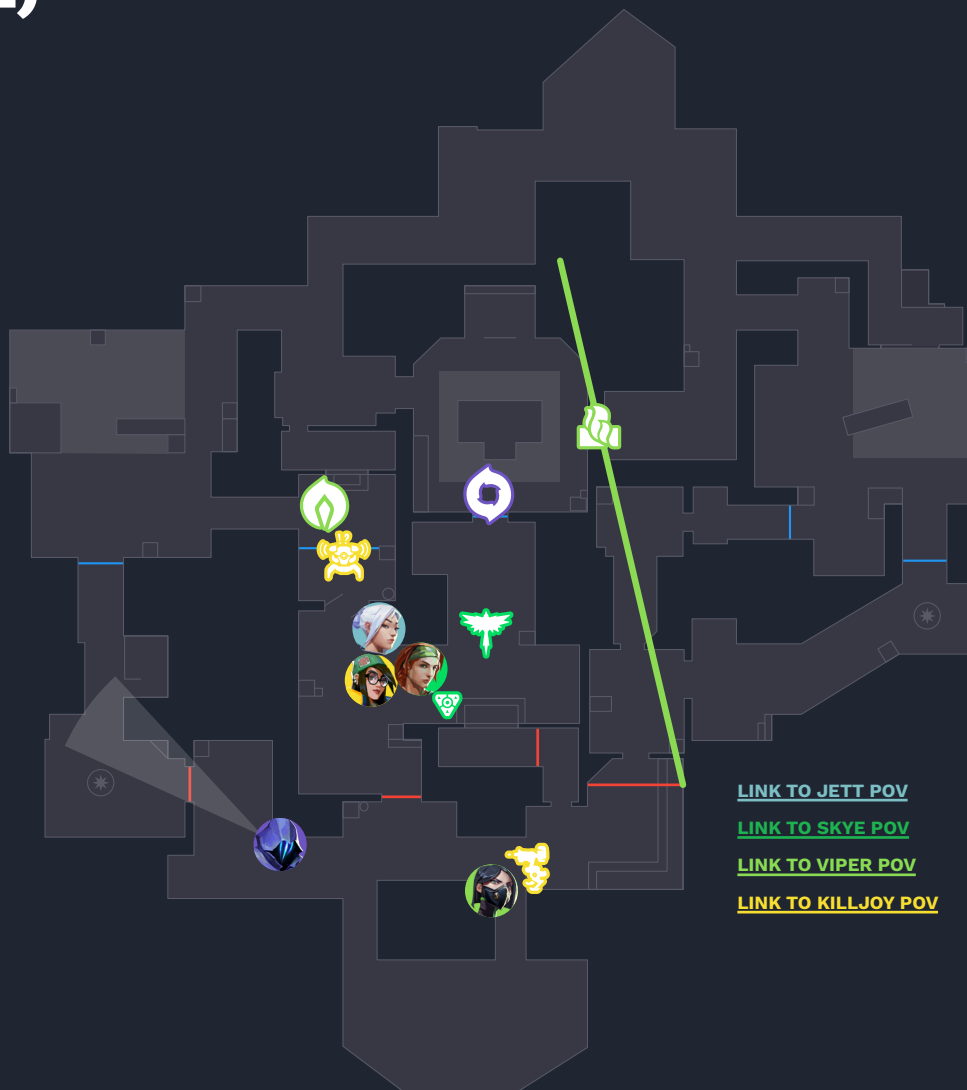

DEFAULT

Defaulting Garage is a very strong idea with this composition, as our Viper wall allows us to retake/reclear space towards A later in the round with minimal risk AND without relying on a drone/dog.

Our goal is to clear out the sentinel utility in garage and make a decision what we want to do after (see next page for reclear/exec ideas).

WHEN TO CALL THIS STRAT:

- This is a well-balanced, sound round that can be called in most situations
- If we are losing A Main Defaults to heavy fighting
- Defence is reading our finishes due to sentinel info in garage

META DEFAULT VARIATION

If the Viper Smoke idea isn't working for you, feel free to revert to the standard smoke

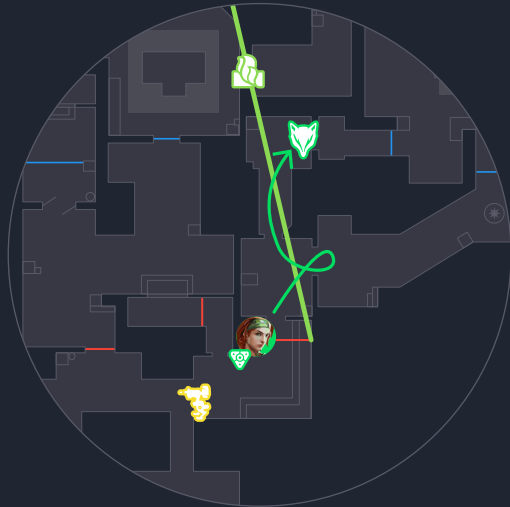

DEFAULT GARAGE (2/2)

EXECS / RECLEAR

We have many options from the Garage Default, a primary decision will be whether or not we need to Reclear A, to push-off any aggressive Defenders and creat question-marks.

19

INTO RECLEAR A

CALL THIS WHEN:
- We feel Defence is weaker A
AND we either want them to rotate back for us to finish B or C
OR we want to go into an A EXEC

LINK TO SKYE POV

INTO A EXEC

CALL THIS WHEN:
- We feel A side of the map is weak, usually after reclearing A (e.g. OP is C side of the map, only 1-2 Defender's A) giving us picks on A

LINK TO OMEN POV

(and hopefully the Viper wall pressure A has kept Defenders there)

PUNISH A ORB

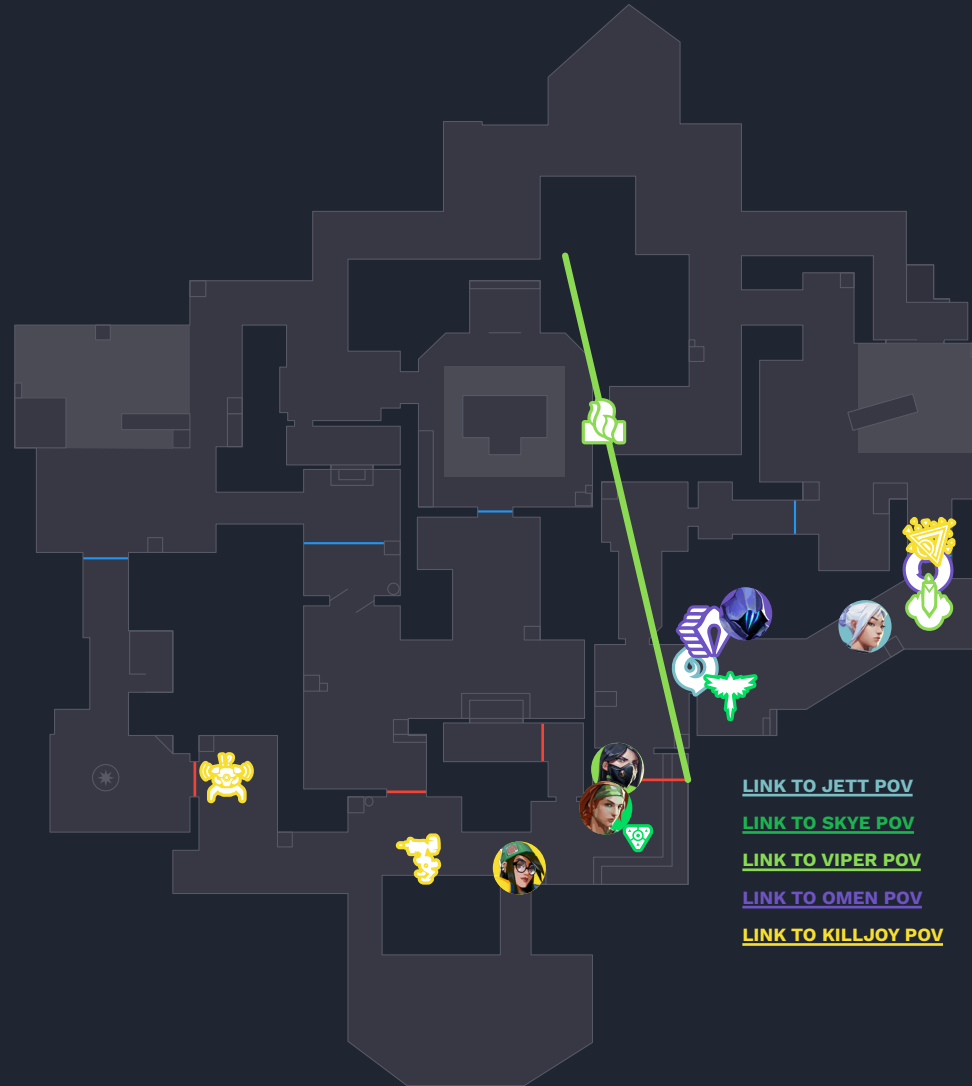

OVERVIEW

We would like to call the PUNISH A ORB when the Defence is one orb away from a good ult and presume they will try to take it on A Long.

This strategy may be niche for Premier level play but worth having in the back-pocket incase.

WHEN TO CALL THIS STRAT:

- Defence is likely to try to take A orb

LINK TO JETT POV

LINK TO SKYE POV

LINK TO VIPER POV

LINK TO OMEN POV

LINK TO KILLJOY POV

- Defence is playing 2-0-3 (weak B) and we want to test their retake

LINK TO KILLJOY POV

Note: Alarmbot can be placed incase Defender's push and then doubles-up incase of late A push when you Ult

VIPER ULT (POSTPLANT) VARIATION

- Defence is weak C site / soft-retake C (113)

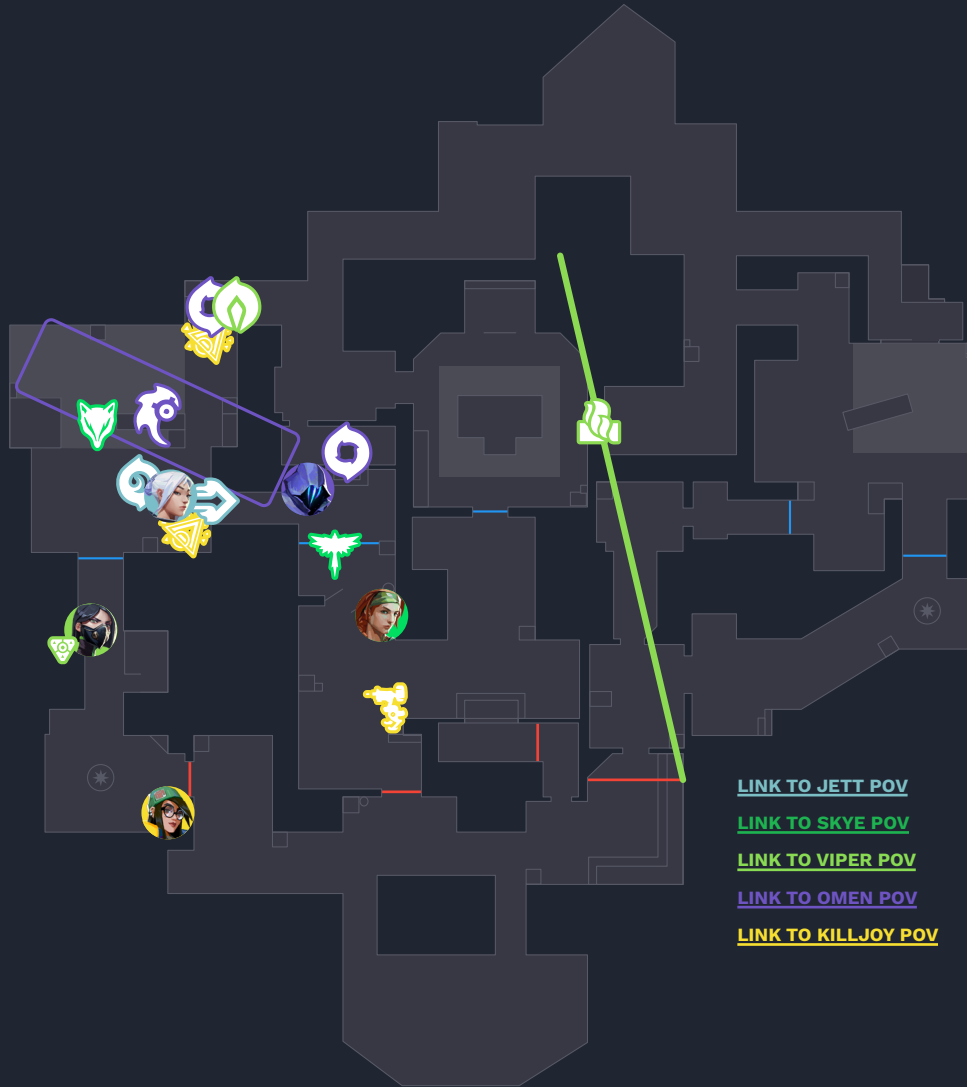

FAST C SPLIT

OVERVIEW

Much like the FAST C EXEC, the C SPLIT isn't our comps strength compared to others (Sova + Breach BUT if we notice a weakness around Garage / C Site then we can aim to trade players and play for our empowered Viper postplant.

WHEN TO CALL THIS STRAT:

- Defence is weak Garage / soft-retake C (113)

ECO: B STING

OVERVIEW

On the surface this strategy seems very similar to our FAST B EXEC but has be tailor made with the idea that we are going to be hero-buying a stinger (or more if we can afford) and playing around the scale-ability of the Viper Orb on front B.

WHEN TO CALL THIS STRAT:

- We are eco but can afford at least one stinger

POSTPLANTS

OVERVIEW

Here are some idealized Postplants, the main goal is for you to get an understanding around the power of Viper's Postplant on Haven and the key ways to play around it.

SLIGGY DEFAULT

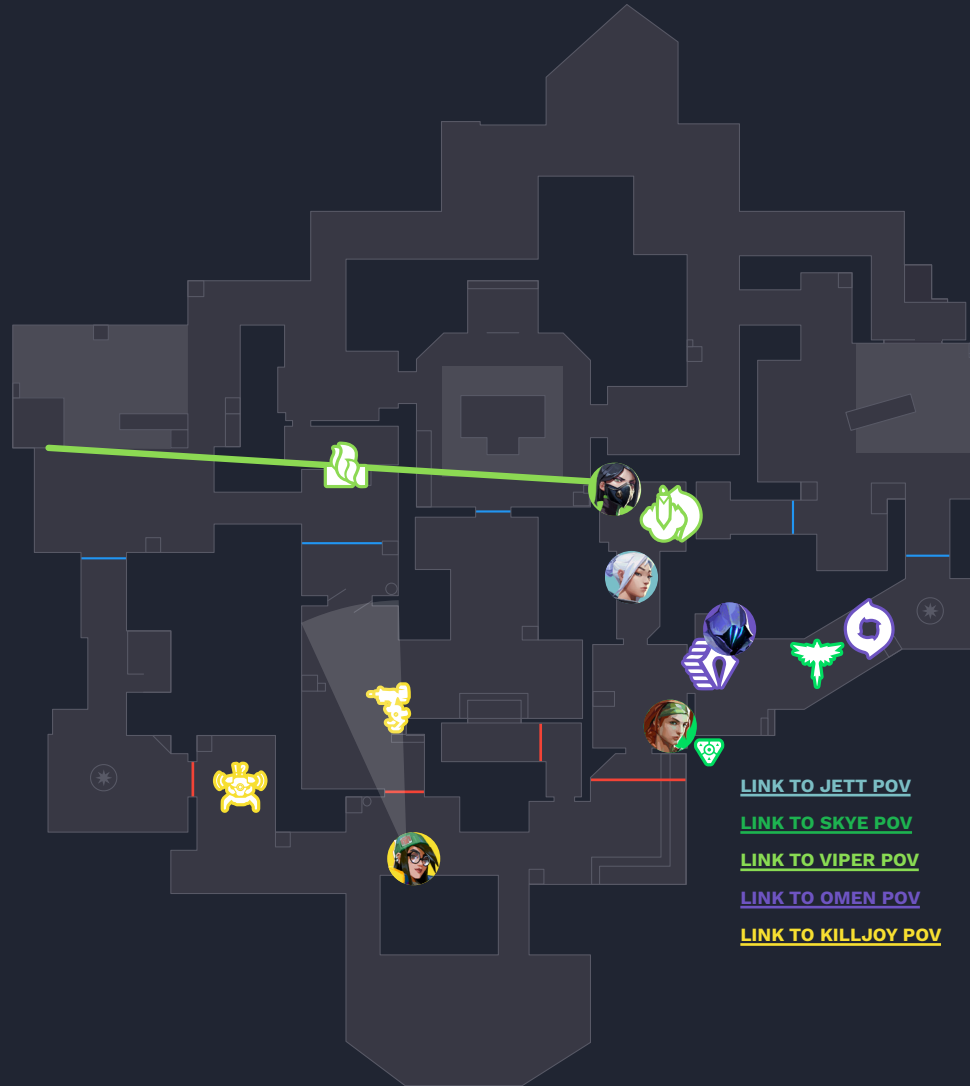

OVERVIEW

26

The Sliggy Default is untested, unproven BUT has potential to be the worst OR best strat in the playbook. The core idea is based around the unique Viper wall that creates massive pressure and lurk potential on B and C site.

WHEN TO CALL THIS STRAT:

- You are getting sewers control uncontested and then when to create full-map pressure
- When you are 11-0 or 0-11 down and have nothing to lose!
